

Colloquium Program

3rd Kyudai-Ateneo Philosophy and Education (KAPE) Colloquium

第三回九州大学・アテネオ・デ・マニラ大学教育及び哲学コロキウム

Dear Colleagues,

It is my pleasure to invite you to participate in the 3rd KAPE Colloquium, to be held from November 15-18 (presentations on Nov. 16 and 17) in Fukuoka, Japan.

The theme of the colloquium is “Philosophy and/of/-ical Education.” It explores the many ways philosophy and education connect—from the formal field of Philosophy of Education, to research on how to teach philosophy (Philosophical Education), and to experimental applications of philosophy to educational topics (Philosophy and Education).

In this colloquium, faculty and students from the Philippines and Japan will present their research in English and discuss with other participants. We will be joined by a small audience of 10-20 students from Japan. There will also be opportunities to observe campus life in Kyushu University, and experience the culture of Japan.

I look forward to seeing you here in Japan!

Sincerely,

Anton Luis Sevilla
Kyushu University

Objectives

This colloquium aims to stimulate the internationalization of Kyushu University, Ateneo de Manila University, and our connected institutions. This is particularly in the areas of research and pedagogy in the fields of philosophy and education. This will be done through research exchange.

This colloquium will be convened by Anton Luis Sevilla of Kyushu University, and will be funded through KAKEN Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research, Japan (Project No. 17K13988), and the Ateneo Loyola Schools Internationalization Grant. We will also receive additional support from QR Program Support and Edward Vickers' Kyushu University Progress 100 Grant.

Venue

Rm. 3105-6, Center Building 3
Ito Campus, Kyushu University
744 Motooka, Nishiku, Fukuoka

Program (Tentative)

First Session (Nov. 16, AM):

- Zosimo Lee (Ateneo de Manila University/University of the Philippines): "Multi-Dimensional Thinking in Education"
- Euan Auld (Education University of Hong Kong): "Science Fiction and Philosophy: Resources for Thinking across Worlds in Education Research and Practice"

Second Session (Nov. 16, PM):

- Lovelyn Paclibar (Ateneo de Manila University): "Ritual, Education, and the Formation of the Social Bond: Habermas and Mead"
- Jae Hyung Park (Education University of Hong Kong): "Philosophy of Demons and Angels over a Bored Class (On Martin Heidegger)"

Third Session (Nov. 17, AM)

- Lucian Jimenez (Ateneo de Manila University): "Between Relativism and Dogmatism: The Application of Intellectual Firmness to Philippine Catholic Religious Instruction"
- Ian Kintanar (Ateneo de Manila University): "A Virtue Epistemology Approach Towards the Anti-Intellectualism of the Filipino Poor"

Fourth Session (Nov. 17, PM):

- Monzen Ayaki (Ritsumeikan/Osaka Educational U.): "The Embodiment Theory of Education: From the View of the Pedagogy of the Kyoto School"
- Anton Luis Sevilla (Kyushu University): "Japanese Philosophy of Moral Education: From Watsuji Tetsurô to Mori Akira"

Nov. 14, 2019 (Thu.)	10:00-12:00 Third Session
Arrival of researchers from the Philippines	12:00-14:00 Lunch
	14:00-16:00 Fourth Session
	16:00-17:00 Open Discussion (chaired by the discussant, Takayama Keita of Kyoto University)
Nov. 15, 2019 (Fri.)	18:00 Dinner
University visit and preliminary discussions
Nov. 16, 2019 (Sat.)	Nov. 18, 2019 (Mon.)
10:00-12:00 First Session	Future planning and sightseeing
12:00-14:00 Lunch
14:00-16:00 Second Session	Nov. 19, 2019 (Tues.)
16:00-17:00 Open Discussion	Departure of researchers for the Philippines
18:00 Dinner
Nov. 17, 2019 (Sun.)	